Dr. Tracey Wilen gave some incredible insight to the American Financial Services Association Women's Leadership Council yesterday. One of the best pieces of advice that seemed so obvious was to give your remote workers regular meetings. These meetings will provide the structure normally found in an office. The other great advice was to be intentional to celebrate successes. Remote workers can often feel overlooked. When we celebrate their accomplishments, they feel recognized and connected to the large organization. Vergent LMS Software, October, 2020

Great job on your presentation today for the AFSA Women's Leadership Council. Terry Horn, Finance & FinTech Recruiter, People Strategies Inc. October, 2020
